Jewish History

156. Adler, Marcus Nathan. "The Itinerary of Benjamin of Tudela." Critical Hebrew Text, English Translation and Commentary. New York, Philipp Feldheim, Inc., nd (1950s or 60s). Reprint of 1907 edition. 8vo in dj with a few short tears, 94 pp. in English and 90 pp. in Hebrew, indices in both languages, fold-out map at the front of the Hebrew section, b/w photo reproductions of some of the original pages. Little is known about Benjamin other than his travel. What is found here is an early redaction, introduced by the redactor. Benjamin was a Spanish Jew. He was a trader and his account is an invaluable document in the history of commerce. His political appraisals were acute but his main interests were his coreligionists. He visited communities as far from Spain as Kurdistan, though his travels did not include Europe. $25.00
157. Amitai, L.K. "Romains et Juifs: Etude Critique sur les Rapports Publics et Prives qui ont existe entre Les Romains et les Juifs Jusqu'a la prise de Jerusalem par Titus." Paris, Librairie Fischbacher, 1894. 8vo, wraps, covers detached and chipping, 137 pp., index, errata. $20.00

158. Benjamin, J.J II. [Joseph Israel]. "Eight Years in Asia and Africa from 1846 to 1855." With a preface by Dr. Berthold Seemann. With a map and corresponding notes from Benjamin of Tudela, B. Techatia, Pedro Teixaira and Ritter's Erkunde. Hanover [Germany], published by the author, 1859. 8vo, worn along the spine edges missing free eps, aeg, xvi, 316 pp. Bound together with the 1860 second German language edition. Xvi, 316 pp. Missing the map indicated. A failed lumber merchant, he adopted the name of the twelfth century traveler Joseph of Tudela and went off in search of the lost tribes. Wherever he went, and his travels took him beyond India and as far as China, he researched the conditions of Jewish life. He first published this book in French and later prepared the augmented German version included here and subsequently the English language version. Travels to America resulted in another book. $125.00
159. Clarke, Adam. "Manners of the Ancient Israelites: containing an account of their Peculiar Customs and Ceremonies their Laws, Polity, Religion, Sects, Arts and Trades, Divisions of Time, Wars, Captivities, & c.
